When planning your study timetable take into consideration what times you work best (morning, afternoon or night), what times you get up and go to bed, your regular commitments (work, sport, travel times, family gatherings etc), and relaxation and exercise time. If you don't plan for these things, a study timetable will not work. Re-evaluate your study timetable at least once a term.

TERM PLANNER

Use this term planner to mark in important dates – topic tests, assessment tasks due etc. You can see then at a glance when your busy times are coming up – and PLAN for them. (Fill in the dates for yourself)

ASSESSMENT MARKS

In this table you should record all your marks for each subject.

Fill in the subjects you are studying in the first column, and then add the marks for each assessment task as you do them. This will give you an idea of how well you are progressing.

TOTAL HOURS GRAPH

This graph is to record the total hours of homework and study you do each week. At the end of each week, total up your homework/study hours and fill in this graph. It will help you keep track on how much work you are doing away from the classroom.

WEEKLY TOTAL HOURS RECORD

WHAT IS STUDY/HOMEWORK?

Study/homework includes these activities:

- Activities set by your subject teacher
- Revising work covered that day
- Reading ahead in the text book
- Research and reading for an assessment task
- Working on an assessment task
- Reading a novel
- Studying for a test
- Creating a mind map of key information about a topic
- Making study notes to prepare for exams

HOW MUCH STUDY/HOMEWORK SHOULD I BE DOING?

- In year 11 you should be doing 2 hours 30 minutes per day
- In year 12 you should be doing 3 hours per day

IDEAS ON HOW TO PRIORITISE YOUR HOMEWORK/STUDY

1. Do the most important and urgent things first. Look at your goals to make sure you are doing what is important
2. When is it due? Organise your tasks according to when they are due
3. Rank your tasks in order of priority
4. Split big tasks into smaller sections and complete them over a few sessions
5. Do hard things first. Study those subjects you find difficult first, rather than leaving them until last.

WHAT SHOULD I DO IF I GET STUCK?

WEEKLY HOMEWORK AND STUDY RECORD

On the next twenty pages, you will find space to record all the homework and study you do each night.

You should use this every night to fill in:

- Subjects in which you did homework or study
- The task you worked on (You may use this as a homework notebook if you wish)
- Time spent on each task (be honest!)
- Set work (Was the task set by your teacher?)
- Own work (Was it your own work or study?)
- Parents signature (They do like to see what you are doing!)

You may show this to your Year Advisor when you feel the need. For the first few weeks, it is a good idea to show it to your Year Advisor every week, this will help you set up good study habits.

I would strongly suggest, every Monday during roll call you add up the hours completed from the week before and enter this information into the Total Hours Table. This is a good time to evaluate your homework/study for the week before, and plan for the coming week.

Here are a few things to remember as you do your homework/study:

1. Yes! You can include homework/study done during School Study periods in your total homework/study hours for the week
2. Balance your homework and study. You should have done at least one study/homework session for each subject by the end of the week
3. Don't fall into the trap of spending most of your time on your favourite subject – it is your weakest subject that needs the most time
4. Do your work sooner rather than later. If you do it the day it is given, you have time to ask for help if you need it.

"My dog ate my homework — nobody else would!"
